

Leave the NO CALL LIST alone. It's working as it should, preventing telemarketers from making unwanted calls. If the Banking Association feels they have a potential market, let them use the mail.